▲ The above chart illustrates the relation between fresh graduates and employees in terms of their preferred work locations to understand the minds of Sarawakians.

■ BACKGROUND :

Among students and employees surveyed online by SarawakJobs.com, 910 of them are Sarawakians who are employed and working in Sarawak; and 2385 of them are Sarawakians who are studying in Sarawak.

■ FINDINGS & ANALYSIS :

Our results show that the majority of fresh graduates and employees surveyed, 56% and 77.3% respectively, have the same mindset, preferring to work in their hometown city - The No.1 location for Sarawakians. Similarly, the 2nd popular location ("cities within Sarawak") reached a consensus with 18.5% fresh graduates and 15% employees surveyed. We can tell from this two locations that majority of Sarawakians prefer their comfort zones, choosing to remain to work in Sarawak. Only a small group of fresh graduates and employees surveyed prefer otherwise. That is, 14% students and 3.7% employees prefer to seek job opportunities outside of Sarawak State but remain within the borders of Malaysia; and 11.5% students and 4% employees prefer seeking overseas jobs. By comparing the figures within the small group of fresh graduates and employees, we noticed that fresh graduates are more willing to venture outside of Sarawak State, choosing work in other parts of Malaysia or overseas than the employees.
